DR. WINNES INDICTED; BOND FIXED AT $10,000

Harlan County Grand Jury Acts After Thorough Investigation Trial January 20

Harlan, Ky., Jan. 13.—Dr. H. C. Winnes, former state veterinarian, was indicted Wednesday by the Harlan county grand jury for the murder of Miss Lura Parsons, Pine Mountain school teacher, whose body was found a short distance from a mountain trail leading to the Pine Mountain settlement school on September 9th, two days after she had been assaulted and murdered.

The indictment of Dr. Winnes marks the first definite step taken by Harlan county authorities to prosecute the case, though previous to the session of the grand jury several thorough and exhaustive probes have been conducted.

Dr. Winnes was in the court room when the indictment was returned against him. Following submission of the indictment to Circuit Judge W. T. Davis, Commonwealth's Attorney J. G. Forrester, requested the court to fix Dr. Winnes bond at $10,000. Judge Davis fixed the bond in this amount, which was given by Dr. Winnes. His bond was signed by George Howard, of Harlan county, and D. C. Jones, and former Judge Hall, his attorneys.

Only one indictment was returned in the Parsons case. Jerry Reed, negro, was held to the grand jury at the same time with Dr. Winnes, but the grand jury failed to return any indictment against him.

Trial of the case against Dr. Winnes will be begun in the circuit court here on Thursday, January 20, it was announced late Wednesday afternoon. Both the defense and the prosecution have agreed to try the case immediately and both sides will answer ready when the case is called by Judge Davis.

When the grand jury first began its investigations last week, Judge Davis stated he would try the case during the present term of court if it was the wish of the defense and the Commonwealth. To do this Judge Davis has postponed his civil docket until the next term of court.

The indictment charging Dr. Winnes with the murder of Miss Parsons was voted by unanimously by all the members of the grand jury, according to several persons who have attended all proceedings of the court during the past few days.

The jury during the last few days has devoted its entire time to the investigation of the murder of Miss Parsons. Appeals from various sections of the state urging that a thorough investigation be made, led Harlan authorities to probe every possible angle of the murder.

NO DECISION REACHED BY MEETING AT NOON

Fifty Counties Represented at Meeting at Lexington—Anxiety Among Delegates

In talking to a representative of the Lexington Leader in regard to the meeting of the bankers, warehousemen and growers, in session at Lexington today, the only information obtained was that up to noon no decision had been reached. The Leader man stated that the committee of twelve had been in conference with three representatives of the "Big Four," who said they wanted to do the right thing by the growers. They called attention to the fact that three-fourths of this year's crop was of inferior grades, and that they could hardly be expected to pay high prices for such tobacco.

All eyes are centered on the results of the meeting at Lexington today, and it is understood from scattered reports that business is at a standstill at the houses that are remaining open for sales.

MUCH INTEREST IN TODAY'S MEETING

Widespread interest in the solution of the burley tobacco situation centers in the action of the mass convention of growers to be held at the Lexington opera house this morning at 11 o'clock, at which it is expected that a definite plan recommended by the joint committee of growers, warehousemen, bankers and officials of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, known as the Committee of Twelve, will be presented for approval or rejection.

Indications are that representatives from every burley producing county of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio will be present at the meeting, which will be called to order and presided over by Judge Henry R. Prewitt, of Mt. Sterling, chairman of the cut-out convention held at the same place last Friday.

The Committee of Twelve was in session yesterday at offices of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association at the Lafayette hotel in Lexington, discussing the various phases of the situation and endeavoring to map out a program that will promise relief to the growers, warehousemen and, in fact, all who are interested in the tobacco industry. Two members of the committee stated that the session would be an executive one and that the recommendations of the committee would not be made public until embodied in written form and presented to the mass convention at the Lexington opera house Thursday morning for a final consideration.

The success of sales at various tobacco markets now running is having effect upon the minds of tobacco growers in Central Kentucky. Many of them are now seeking to influence the loose leaf houses in Lexington to reopen at an early date.

Letters were sent to growers who have about 700,000 pounds of tobacco now on the floors at Lexington asking if they wanted to open the houses and start the sales. Owners of 80 per cent of the leaf stated positively that they wanted to resume selling.

$7.27 IS AVERAGE FOR 1920 TOBACCO

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 13.—The average price of the 1920 crop of tobacco sold during the month of December is $7.27 per 100 as compared with an average of $35.64 per 100 for the 1919 crop during last December. During December 4,603,125 pounds of the 1920 crop were sold for $334,750.98. During the same month 4,164,100 pounds of the 1919 crop were sold for $483,883.34, or an average of $11.38 per 100 pounds. In December of 1919 the average price per 100 for the 1918 crop was $20.74.

These figures are contained in the December tobacco report issued by Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna.

CHAS. BURGINS LEG BROKEN IN WRECK

News from Gibson hospital Thursday morning as to the condition of Mr. Charles Burgin, who received injuries in a wreck one day last week, was very encouraging to friends and relatives in the county.

Mr. Burgin is a resident of Bond, Ky., and had come over to Madison county route to Nicholasville, where he was to meet the train bearing the remains of his son, who was killed in the recent war, and whose body was being shipped to this county. He was coming to town in a horse and buggy with a Mr. Hill with whom he had spent the night, and while only a few miles from town driving along slowly on the Barnes Mill pike, the buggy was overtaken by an auto, the occupants being two boys, who were speeding, according to the best information obtainable. Just as the car neared the vehicle which Mr. Burgin was driving, it collided, upsetting the occupants of the vehicle, and throwing Mr. Burgin severely to the ground. At this time, it is understood, Mr. Burton Roberts happened along in his car, and was hailed by the injured man. Mr. Roberts stopped his car and came to the assistance of the man, finding that Mr. Burgin's leg had been broken in two places. He asked Mr. Roberts to take him to the hospital and to look after him until he was able to get up. Accordingly, Mr. Roberts took him to the Gibson hospital where he was given immediate attention.

Neither Mr. Burgin nor Mr. Roberts recognized the young men driving the car.

SULLIVAN SEEKS E. N. ENDOWMENT

His By-Law Adopted Providing For Naming Buildings After Wealthy Donors

When Multimillionaire L. V. Harkness, died a resident of Fayette county, Ky., he bequeathed the sum of $8,000,000 for the erection and equipment of a boys' dormitory at Yale College in Connecticut. No effort has ever been made to induce the wealthy, like Harkness, donate anything to the state institutions of Kentucky, and yet it seems that a business man like Harkness was, could more easily be induced to contribute to institutions like the Normal Schools or State University which are backed by a great sovereign, solvent Commonwealth and will last for all time, than denominational colleges and schools, the length of whose existence is quite uncertain.

Regent J. A. Sullivan with this thought in mind, introduced the following by-law at the regular meeting of the Board of Regents held here last Saturday, and it was unanimously adopted.

Be it resolved by the Board of Regents of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, consisting of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and its four Regents now in session assembled, this by-law is enacted, to-wit:

A permanent committee of this Board is hereby created and formed which shall consist at all times of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex-Officio its Chairman, and of two members of the Board of Regents, and the members of the Board shall be appointed on this committee annually by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Said committee shall consider by what names the buildings and improvements of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School shall be called and known, and report the same to the Board from time to time for its action thereon.

Said committee shall also have the power to solicit the erection of buildings, improvements and objects, both useful and ornamental, by and at the expense of the wealth of our State and Nation, in consideration of such buildings, objects and improvements being called or named as such donor or donors may desire; provided, however, that such name or names shall be of a person or persons in life and character worthy for such buildings, objects and improvements to be so named or called.

Said committee shall report all its steps to the Board for its action.

MAN O' WAR TO BE IN LEXINGTON TUESDAY

The Lexington board of commerce committee named to have charge of local preparations for the showing of Man o' War at the Kentucky Jockey Club track when he is brought to Lexington next week, probably Tuesday, met and appointed George A. Bain as master of ceremonies for the event.

Mr. Bain's selection for this honor is considered especially appropriate. Secretary Dunn said, because of the fact that he was auctioneer in charge of the sale at Saratoga, N. Y., at which Man o' War was sold to his present owner as a yearling.

There will be no elaborate demonstration or ceremony attending the showing of the superhorse at Lexington, it is said. He will not be allowed to run an exhibition mile, but will be paraded before the grandstand for all who wish to see him.

In Kentucky cities and towns have 633,000 and the country 1,783,000 persons.

The figure shows more than half of the population of continental United States lives in rural territory for the first time in the nation's history.

The census bureau did not attempt to account for the drift from the country to cities and towns, but officials previously attributed it largely to the world war. Large salaries in the cities attracted many from the country, while many soldiers who lived on farms before joining the army took up life in cities after their discharge.
